

December 2007

Dear GOODE Skier:

As 2007 comes to a close, I want to bring you up-to-date on what's happening at GOODE Ski Technologies. It was a good year at GOODE as many of our skiers had a great season. I hope you had a good year, too! Here are just a few of the highlights:

- GOODE Skis won the World Championships in Linz, Austria - Thomas Degasperri (ITA).
- GOODE PowerShell Boots won both the Men's and Women's World Championships.
- GOODE Skis won more medals than all other skis combined at the 2007 U.S. Nationals
- GOODE PowerShell Boots are being used by 7 of the top 10 men skiers in the World.
- GOODE Skis won the Open Men's Division at the US Nationals - Nick Parsons (USA).
- GOODE announced the new PowerPlate System for traditional binding mounting.
- GOODE Skis scored the best women's score of the year - April Coble-Eller (USA).

Here is what's new:

- The GOODE 9800SL, announced at the 2007 U.S. Nationals, is the industry's only asymmetrical ski built. It is available in the following lengths: 62", 64", 65.5", 66.25", 67" and 69" and available in 32mph, 34mph or 36mph models.
- We're now building Carbon Composite Snow Skis with our state-of-the-art machinery. Check out the GOODE Carbon all-mountain skis at www.goode.com
